FROM THE DIRECTOR

Hello!

Thank you for coming to our last production of 2015.

"What do you do when you're not sure?" – Father Flynn

Christmas is nearly upon us and coming into that spiritual time of year is the perfect time for a parable. DOUBT explores the ideas of certainty verses ambiguity as well as the moral question of how far we will go to do what we think is right.

We have had a great time in the rehearsal room grappling with these themes; each new day was abundant in questioning and uncertainty. This play is divisive as all good plays should be. Playwright John Patrick Shanley said there is no second act because act two takes place in the theatre foyer, in the car ride home and in weeks that follow as we digest and ponder the events we have witnessed.

I hope this production moves you and makes you think.

See you all in 2016!
